“Looking at the Scriptures through the Eyes of a First Century Jew”

What Yeshua said about his Purpose

Matthew 5:17 Do not suppose that I have any intention of doing away with the Torah or the Prophets. My purpose is rather to place them on a firmer footing by interpreting them correctly in terms of God's ultimate will as He originally intended for His commandments to be obeyed.

The Law of God, also known as the Torah, emanates from the abiding goodness of God's nature and thus stands forever, God being unchangeable. When we observe the Torah, it is a reflection of His Divine Nature resident within us.

Today's Torah Portion
Numbers 4:21 — 7:89

1. In Numbers 4:5-6, when the camp is getting ready to move, Aaron and his sons are instructed to take down the ark and put the staves in. Exodus 25:13-15 instructs that once the staves are inserted into the rings, they shall not be taken from it. Explain the "on it's face" contradiction.
2. Numbers 6:18 instructs the Nazarite to "shave the head" once the days of their separation are fulfilled. Is there any reason to believe that this would not apply to a woman, that is, that she should have her head shorn?
3. 20/80 vs 80/20 Numbers 3:17-4:49 demonstrates a coordinated ministry. Since we are "a kingdom of priests", should each family of the congregation seek to attend to a part of the service in today's economy?
4. Should the Priestly Blessing have a role today as regards the congregational meetings?

Extra Credit Question

Scenario

Let's say that after a study regarding whether it is proper for a woman to teach other women in the assembly, 100% find that this is acceptable.

Let's say that after this study regarding whether it is proper for a woman to teach men in the assembly, 90% find that this is acceptable.

At a given meeting, we close the wall between the two rooms and set up one for a woman to teach and one for a man to teach. Have we met the burden of the study?

Suppose a man who found it acceptable to be taught by a woman decides they would like to hear the particular message being taught by a woman. Have we failed to meet the burden of the study?
